TAG AT THE ISLAND, WAR AT MONTREAL

One Lacrosse Game Was Soft, the Other Was Somewhat Vicious.

SENIOR LEAGUE STANDING.

	Won.	Lost.	To play.
Cornwalls	7	2	1
Capitals	5	1	4
Shamrocks	5	2	3
Torontos	3	5	2
Nationals	3	6	2
Montreals	1	7	2

Nearly two thousand people saw the Torontos play rings around the Nationals of Montreal at the Island on Saturday afternoon. When Referee McFadden blew his whistle for time the score was ten to one against the men in purple. The Nationals lined up eight men shy of their regular team and filled in with juniors. It was a poor exhibition of the game. It was interesting for five minutes. Then it was principally amusing. Torontos had everything their own way. It was a game of tag. Toronto always had the ball and the other fellows kept running after it. If the blue-coats had tried very hard, they might have doubled the score. As it is, ten to one stands the largest piled up in a Senior League game this season. The game was not rough, except towards the last, but it was a splendid gymnastic exhibition of how to fall and not get hurt. The ground was either slippery or the visitors had their sliding shoes with them, for they spent much of their time sitting down. Once in a while a National sat on the neck of a Toronto player and the Toronto man shook him off, got up and took the ball and scored. When the first face-off took place Querrie passed the ball to Graydon and in fifteen seconds he had shot and missed. A moment later Graydon got another shot and missed again. Then Querrie got hold of the rubber and scored, all in less than two minutes. Hereux, who was between the posts for the Nationals, wasn't sure sometimes whether he was in front of a Gatling gun or a bunch of lacrosse sticks when the shots kept ricocheting about him.

'Will' Stollery, the new face from the Young Torontos, was full of aggressiveness, ways that are tricky, and good plays, and will be a good man. Alan received an ovation, for the people were glad to see him back. Graydon had his eye on the net and scored three of the games. Murray, Iler, Stewart, and all the Toronto bunch did well. For the visitors, Blanchard, Reilly, Butler, and H. Valois did the best they could.

The seventh game was the longest in duration, nineteen minutes and thirty seconds were necessary to shoot the ball through Montreal's citadel; and with the exception of the eighth, which took thirteen minutes, all the others were shot trough quite regularly.

A MELEE AT MONTREAL.

A Series of Fights the Feature of the Shamrock-Cornwall Match.

Montreal, Aug. 19.—Shamrocks defeated the Cornwall lacrosse team, the leaders of the Senior League, on Saturday, by a score of 6 to 2, and the game, which had been rough all through, wound up in a vicious fight, in which the spectators joined. In the ninth game Robinson was knocked out by Dogan. When he came to he mixed it up with Captain Reilly of the Cornwall team. Captain O'Connell of the Shamrocks interfered, and punched Reilly to the ground. Then the referee had something to say, and all four went to the dressing rooms.

Then Brennan knocked Mr. Broderick, the Cornwall goal man, down, and was also reined. Currie made an attack on goal and Broderick struck him on the head. The Shamrock man toppled over, and the two captains commenced to battle again. Robinson, seeing that O'Connell was getting the worst of it, punched Reilly, and then there was a general scramble. The spectators then crowded over, and it took the police and the committee half an hour to break up the fight.

Cornwall was outclassed from the start. The Shamrock home were fast, and their shots were straight, while the Cornwall home was broken up every time it clashed with the Shamrocks' defence.

LACROSSE NOTES.

Cookstown and Tottenham Juniors played a league game Saturday. Cookstown won by 10-2, and will now meet Bradford to play off a tie for first place.

At Sunlight Park Saturday, the Orioles and the Shamrocks of Toronto Junction played off for the junior city championship, the Orioles winning by a score of 4-3. The players started in to rough it, but Referee Waghorne was firm. He penalized five Orioles and four Shamrocks before the lads steadied down to play the game. Orioles played rings around the Junction team in the first quarter, but the suburbanites rallied and scored their three games in succession.

The 3,500 fans who attended the ball game between Providence and Toronto on Saturday saw the locals take a brace and win the game in the ninth, with two men out. Toft started with a liner to Conn, who got mixed up and threw too late to first. Then Conn went up in the air and hit Flaherty. Brown singled, Friend missed, and two runs scored. Bannon rapped out a two-bagger, and Brown crossed the rubber. Carr hit viciously, and Bannon came home. Carr died at the plate, being beaten out by the ball.

Flaherty, Toronto's new twirler, pitched well, and let himself out splendidly whenever the locals got in a tight pinch. Downey, the new $500 short from Schenectady, fell down but once in the ten chances covered. He covers much ground. Sullivan lost the ball over the fence in the eighth. Bonner beat Conner's throw home by sliding under Leahy. Hargrove made a splendid spectacular catch in the ninth, cutting off two runs.

The promoters of the privateering plan intend to ignore Mr. Kruger's refusal of their offer.

YARRA-YARRA AND NAUTILUS

Whitecap Pressed Yarra-Yarra—Nautilus Won at Queen's Wharf.

Saturday brought out the light-weather qualities of the skiffs of both the National Yacht and Skiff Club and the Royal Canadian Yacht Club fleets. F. J. Campbell's Yarra-Yarra won at the R.C.Y.C., and Oliver Spanner's Nautilus was first to cross the line at the N. Y. and S. C. course. The wind was light and flukey from the south and south-east. The starting gun at the R. C. Y. C. found Whitecap on the line, but to leeward of Caprice and Yarra-Yarra. Cakewalk was fourth, Acushla fifth, and Zip last, about 100 yards back of the rest.

On the trip to the westerly buoy a free run with spinakers set Whitecap luffed across Yarra-Yarra's stern and forced her to give her room on the buoy, and Acushla passed Cakewalk.

The next leg was a beat, and the fleet spread out a bit. Yarra-Yarra took a lead at once, with Whitecap, much to everybody's surprise, hard after her. At the Island buoy Yarra-Yarra was 100 yards to the good. She held this coming across the bay, but on the run down to the first buoy on the second round lost it all. Several times in the next beat Whitecap was right on her stern, but Yarra-Yarra was out to win, and though headed off several times by bad slants of wind around the Island buoy, worked out a 50-yard lead on her pursuer, and held it to the finishing buoy.

Acushla, the third boat, was 250 yards back, and Caprice got inside the money for the first time this season, finishing fourth, after a tussle with Cakewalk. The time:

Boat and skipper.	Finish.
Yarra-Yarra, F. J. Campbell	4.20.50
Whitecap, A. J. Philips	4.21.34
Acushla, Ross Gooderham	4.23.50
Caprice, Richard Slee	4.25.30
Cakewalk, E. K. M. Wedd	4.26.03
Zip, G. E. Gooderham	4.27.00

At the National Club Alexandra went away in the lead, with General Roberts second, and Canuck third. Then came Nautilus, the ultimate winner, with Caterpillar, the bat, which gave her the most trouble, close astern. Yavette, Highland Lassie, and Mistress Nell were next in a bunch. Nautilus worked out a lead on the first leg down the Island shore. Caterpillar liked the light going, too, and was hard after her all around the course, and almost caught her on the finish of the first round. Canuck and General Roberts were next up, but even they were ten minutes back, while the rest of the fleet was so far astern that they gave up the chase. On the second round, when the wind dropped still lighter, Nautilus worked out a nice lead. General Roberts gave Canuck a fight for third money, and would have been closer up but that she found a spot on the last leg where the wind was soft enough to lie on, and stayed there to enjoy a rest. Nothing would persuade her to move along. The time:

Boat and owner.	1st round	Finish.
Nautilus, O. Spanner	3.34.00	4.29.05
Caterpillar, Ellis & Son	3.34.20	4.32.35
Canuck, R. Ewing	3.44.00	4.48.25
General, Roberts, W. Young	3.45.20	4.55.00
Alexandra, Sinclair, and Marshall	3.47.20	Quit
Yevette, W. Downer	4.05.00	Quit
Highland Lassie, R. Russell	4.11.10	Quit

Mistress Nell, Feather, and Holden—Quit first round.

Lorne Kenny's Crowninshield sloop, Vesta, which won the 25-class race at Buffalo at the regatta, beat the R. C.Y.C. 25-foot skiffs on Saturday without any trouble. She was given a poor start, but mowed down the fleet on the first round, and beat them half across the bay. The only fight of the contest was between those old rivals Frou-Frou and Merlin. Frou-Frou was a couple of lengths ahead when the finishing line was reached. The time:

Boat and owner.	Finish.
Vesta, L. J. S. Kenny	4.56.00
Frou-Frou, C. A. E. Goldman	5.02.00
Merlin, H. Cartwright	5.02.45
Aleda, F. A. Rolph	5.03.30

"OUR NAVY" TO-NIGHT.

West's Patriotic Entertainment Commences a Week's Engagement in Association Hall.

"Our Navy," which begins a week's engagement to-night in Association Hall, is an exposition of life in the royal navy, by means of marvelous moving pictures. The general public are to a certain extent familiar with the ways of the Jack Tar when on shore, but his life at sea, the launching and explosion of torpedoes, and views of majestic battleships in heavy seas, are phases which landsmen never see. These pictures, taken by permission and endorsement of the Lords of the Admiralty, show him at the first time he goes aboard the training ship as a boy, and they carry him all through his life on board our leviathans of the deep, in port and at sea. There are battleships and cruisers cutting through the water at full speed, and a picture of great interest at this present time is that of the torpedo-boat destroyers Turbinia and Viper, rushing through the water at the wonderful speed of 41¾ miles an hour.

FEATURES OF THE FAIR.

The Live Stock 7,000 Strong, the Human Bomb, and the Great Tattoo.

The extent of Toronto Exhibition, which opens a week from to-morrow, is perhaps best indicated by the fact that whereas the live stock exhibited at Buffalo is extended over eight weeks, each species being given a week or ten days, upwards of 7,000 animals are on view at the same time, namely, 750 horses, 700 cattle, 550 sheep, 400 swine, 4,000 poultry—fowl and domestic pets—and 700 dogs. At no other show on earth can so much be seen of the animal creation on the one visit as at Toronto.

Apart from the experiments in photography by wire, probably the greatest feat performed at the Exhibition will be a balloon ascension by Leo Stevens, who is known as "the Human Bomb." When anything from five hundred to a thousand feet high in air the bomb is detached by a cut-off fuse. As it descends the outer shell of the bomb explodes. The inner shell, made of aluminum, opens automatically, releasing the aeronaut, who makes his descent by a parachute.

The third annual monster tattoo, bivouac, and reveille, to be given on the opening night, Tuesday, August 27, promises to be of unusual brilliancy and impressiveness. As last year's was an improvement on the previous tattoo, this year's will be an improvement on both. Nearly a thousand people, including musicians, torch and banner-bearers, chorus and solo singers, will take part, while scenery 700 feet long, illustrating the shores of the Pelho, China, salvos of fireworks, artillery, and dazzling variegated illumination, will add greatly to the picturesqueness, impressiveness, and charm of the entertainment. Major J. T. Thomson will be military director; Mr. John Waldron, musical conductor; and Mr. W. J. A. Carnahan, the soloist. Reserved seat tickets will be on sale at 50c, including admission to the grounds, at Nordheimer's, on Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Monday. The general admission, including the grounds, which will be brilliantly illuminated, will be 25c.

THE COMPETITION OF THE NATIONS

Hon. Wm. Mulock Says Canada Must Meet it or Fall Behind.

Undoubtedly travel agrees with the Hon. Wm. Mulock. The Postmaster-General reached Toronto yesterday morning after an absence of over five months in England and Australia, and after spending a couple of hours in the city, passed on to his home in North York, where he will spend a brief period in resting and getting the rheumatism out of his right arm, which he at present carries in a sling, said rheumatism being the result of a loving touch from the fogs encountered in the March trip across the Atlantic. Aside from the arm, Mr. Mulock is looking and feeling first-rate.

The Minister was very much impressed with Australia, the country to which he went as Canada's official representative at the time the colonies were finally declared a commonwealth. Speaking to a Star reporter, he said: "Australia is a country of very considerable possibilities, and I expect to see it make steady and substantial progress, but no boom. There is nothing to warrant anticipations, because the country has confederated, that therefore its commerce will enter upon any startling change of conditions.

WHERE AUSTRALIA IS WEAK.

"Australia," he continued, "suffers from an undue proportion of its population being gathered in the great centers, the rural population being comparatively small. In years gone by, grants of large tracts of land, varying in area from a few thousand to hundreds of thousands of acres each, were made to individuals for ranching purposes. This policy has operated prejudicially to close settlement as it exists in, say, Ontario, and various of the Provincial Governments are buying back such of these lands as are fit for ordinary husbandry with a view to their subdivision into reasonable-sized farms. But although this is recognized as a very necessary procedure as a step towards developing the agricultural interests, still the evil consequences of the old policy, in another form, still exist, for the Governments being obliged to pay high prices for the repurchased lands, cannot be as liberal as they otherwise could be in disposing of them to actual settlers. However, the breaking up of the large holdings is generally approved of, and will ultimately be of great advantage to the Commonwealth."

STRONG IMPERIAL FEELING.

The Minister went on to speak of colonial fellow-feeling as he found it in the Antipodes. "Everywhere throughout Australia," he said, "there is the kindliest feeling toward Canada and the Canadian people, and I think there is no reason why the two peoples should not develop trade on a large scale between the two countries.

"The Australians are strong Imperialists, intensely loyal, and most anxious to be in close touch with the rest of the Empire both in sentiment and trade. I met everywhere during my visit great numbers of Australian representatives of Canadian manufacturers in business houses, and all expressed their great appreciation of their treatment by the Australians. The chief difficulty in the way of extending trade relations between the two countries appears to me to be the lack of regular transportation from Canadian ports. At present there is but one line of steamers, namely, that between Vancouver and Sydney. Its sailings are not sufficiently numerous and the route is greatly handicapped for Eastern Canada because of the long land haul through the Dominion, and also the fact that its terminus is at Sydney, Queensland, which is on the east coast of Australia, so that additional freights have to be paid for transportation between Sydney and Freemantle, a distance of probably 2,500 miles. It will, I think, be necessary for Canada, if her trade is to acquire a firm foothold in Australia, that cargo steamers shall sail at regular intervals between some of our eastern ports to Australia, touching at Freemantle and other cities along Australia's southern and eastern coast. The United States has already adopted this course as regards their own country, with the result that a market for American goods in Australia is being rapidly secured. I think the sooner Canada moves in this direction the better. It is easier to occupy a new field than to fight later on to dislodge other nations.

LARGER, FASTER VESSELS.

"With reference to the Pacific service," continued Mr. Mulock, "I think there would be a great advantage to the two countries in an improvement of steamship communication by the substitution for the existing ships of others of greater capacity and speed. If in addition to this improvement we had a fast Atlantic service to Great Britain, a very large amount of Australian passenger traffic with Europe would come via Canada. The traffic would not always be merely transient, but would help to advertise the country, and in many instances do
