TO-DAY'S NEWS FROM THE OUTSKIRTS

COUNCIL VISITS ARTESIAN WELLS

And Is Highly Satisfied With the Appearances--Outlook for Water is Good.

WATER RUNNING TO WASTE

Would Cost Half a Million For Pipe to Carry Ten Million Gallons Daily.

By Our Own Reporter.

Toronto Junction, July 25.—Six automobiles, carrying town officials, members of the Board of Health, friends and representatives of the press, left yesterday afternoon to explore the region where pure water is plentiful, with the intention of satisfying themselves that there would be an abundance for domestic, fire, and factory use for the town for years to come. The general opinion on their return was that water was there in abundance, and if they could but have it running through taps in town, it would be one of the greatest and best acts ever done for the citizens.

The party consisted of Mayor Smith, Councillors Armstrong, Hain, Whetter, Howell, Ford, Bull, Irwin, and Greenlaus; Mr. Neighorn, promoter; ex-Councillor Wilson, Solicitor Anderson, W. P. Hartney, Chairman of the Board of Health; Dr. Hopkins, M. H. O.; Chief Robinson, of the Fire Department; Surveyor Abrey, A. Dods, solicitor for the Stock Yards; Engineer Ferlow, of Gunns, Limited; Mr. T. A. Russell, of the Canada Cycle and Motor Company, and representatives of the daily press.

Thirty-Two Wells.

The drive was to the side line between Markham and Stouffville, and along that to the sixth and seventh concessions, Mr. Neighorn was the conductor of the tour, and, when all had arrived, he conducted them to the artesian wells, which are 32 in number. It is a place where pumps are not needed. Apparently all that there is to be done is to drill a hole anywhere between 30 and 70 feet in the ground, stick in a pipe, and water spouts out in a continuous stream. The first well visited was at P. Stately's house, where a two-inch pipe was sunk 56 feet. Here the flow is about 50 gallons to the minute, or about 75,000 gallons per day. At this spot it is 680 feet above the level of the bay, and about 460 feet above the Toronto reservoir. All in the party partook of the refreshing stream after their dusty ride, and remarked on the taste and clearness. The difference between it and the present town water was quite noticeable.

Then the party were conducted to the sixteen wells on the Cook farm, a couple of miles further east. Here the water bubbled up through pipes sunk from 27 to 46 feet. The water in all bubbled a few inches over the two and three inch pipes that conducted the water upwards.

Two places in the rounds were particularly noticeable. These were two wells sunk about four feet apart. The streams were bubbling out of both of the first pair the same. Mr. Dods attempted to block one, to see if it would make any difference with the other, but it did not, and the party were told that when the second well was sunk it had no effect on the first. In the second instance, one of the pair was about ten feet deeper than the other, and the water rose about six inches above its mate.

Whence It Comes.

It is estimated that nearly three million gallons of water is wasted daily. The average depth of the wells, where a flow of between fifty and sixty gallons per minute can be obtained, is about 77 feet.

Where the water comes from is a mystery, but Mr. Maxiam, who has bored the wells, says they are fed from the lakes or the ridges. There are thirteen of these with apparently no outlet or inlet. Mr. Maxiam says the springs receive their supply from these by underground passages. These lakes never lower, and must be fed from some underground channel from the Upper Lakes. The water, although clear, is not all the same. In some wells iron is an element that can be tasted, while in others no trace of it can be found in tasting. It is considered that not a trace of vegetable matter will be found upon an analysis being taken. The ground is a rich, black loam, and spongy. About thirty feet down it begins to get stoney, and continues to be so as far as experiments have gone.

Want a Franchise.

The company, which will be known as the Artesian Water Company, want Toronto Junction to enter into an agreement to take water if they bring it down. As the councillors who were out yesterday look at it, the town would be willing, providing the terms are suitable. The company would, of course, supply other places along the route. With over 600 feet of a head there would be a splendid pressure. To lay a pipe that would carry some ten million gallons per day would cost, it is estimated, about half a million. That is practically all it would cost once a good supply of water is at hand.

Smith-Morgan Nuptials.

St. George's Church, Lambton Mills, was the scene of a pretty wedding this afternoon at three o'clock, when Miss Laura L. Morgan, daughter of Mrs. R. Morgan, became the wife of Dr. L. Gerald Smith, eldest son of Joseph Smith, of this town.

There was a full service at the church conducted by Rev. H. L. Tremayne, rector of the church, assisted by Canon Tremayne of Mimico. The church was prettily decorated by friends of the bride. The Lohengrin wedding march was played by Miss Ethel Luttrell of Toronto, while the bridal party entered the church. The bride was conducted to the altar by her brother, George Morgan. The ushers were Ralph Page of New York and Charles Morgan, brother of the bride.

The bride wore a duchess satin dress trimmed with duchess lace, a bridal veil with seed pearls, and a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white bridal roses and lilies of the valley.

There were four bridesmaids. Miss Violet Blackwell, M.E.L., an old O.L.C. friend, of Cunnington, wore a dress of champagne silk eolienne over taffeta, Miss Ethel Booth, Toronto, wore ivory silk mull, trimmed with Valenciennes lace. Miss Isabelle Dalrymple, Toronto, was dressed in a pale blue silk organdie. Miss Myrtle Scott, cousin of the bride, Lambton, wore a dress of cream cashmere trimmed with all-over lace. All the bridesmaids wore white tulle hats with ostrich plumes. Miss Laura Scott, the little flower girl, wore a dainty frock of silk mousseline, and while the bridal party was leaving the church she strewed sweet peas around in the aisles. Jack Smith, brother of the groom, held the ribbons at the church which divided the invited guests and visitors. At the signing of the register Wilbur H. Horner sang "Oh, Fair, Oh Sweet and Holy," in a creditable manner. The groom was supported by his brother, E. Norman Smith.

The bridal party and guests repaired to the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony, where a wedding supper was served. The bride held a reception in the parlor under a bell, and the room was decorated with white astors and roses and banked with ferns and palms.

The groom's present to the bride was a gold bracelet with amythest stone; to the bridesmaids, gold brooches; to the groomsman and ushers, scarf pins.

The bride carried a lace handkerchief, the gift of her deceased uncle, Thomas Peers, of Birkenhead, England, and a tiny prayer book, bound with white kid, the gift of the rector.

The bride's going-away dress was of navy blue brondcloth with trimmings of cream broadcloth and gold braid, and wore a hat to match.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith left for a trip down the St. Lawrence, and will not take up their residence in the Junction until the fall.

RIVERDALE NEWS.

By Our Own Reporter.

Riverdale, July 21.—The progress which Riverdale has made can in no way be more clearly shown than in the greatly increased demand for more church accommodation. Within the last year practically six new churches have been or are in course of erection. St. Clement's Anglican Church, near the corner of Brooklyn avenue and Queen street, has been greatly enlarged, a new mission church on Englewood avenue was started last Saturday, Kew Beach Methodists have laid the foundation for a new church on Queen street east, near Kew Beach firehall, and the Presbytorians of Kew Beach are erecting a large and beautiful structure north of the site of the old one. It is also in contemplation to build a new Anglican Church on the corner of Birch and Queen. In addition to this First Avenue Baptists have established a mission on Reid avenue, which will soon be self-supporting, and to which an addition will probably soon be made, while further up Reid avenue, and near the corner of Gerrard, mission services have for some time been conducted under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church, with Rev. Mr. Dix of Knox College in charge. It is said that in the near future a substantial building will be erected.

It is in contemplation to establish a new mission in connection with St. Matthew's Church, in the near future. The site will probably be near the corner of Logan and Eastern avenue. Before the rector, Rev. Canon Farncomb, left on his trip to the Continent, he had inaugurated plans looking to this end, and the first meeting will take place with an open air service to-morrow night.

St. Clement's Church picnic is being held to-day at Bond Lake.

First Avenue Baptist Sunday School are also holding their annual outing to-day to Mountain View Park, Hamilton. The party left on the Macassa early this morning.

Gordon Farr, son of Clarence Farr, Broadview avenue, has entered the Traders' Bank as a junior.

The new Athletic Club building on Broadview is rapidly nearing completion.

EAST TORONTO.

By Our Own Reporter.

East Toronto, July 25.—About 40 enthusiastic supporters of the Little York football team boarded the special train here this afternoon for Brampton, where the Little York football team meet the Preston team in the struggle for supremacy in the Intermediate League. Business is practically suspended, and a number of the merchants have closed for the day.

While the work of putting down new sidewalks is not on so extensive a scale as that of last year, on many of the side streets considerable local improvement work is in progress. Comparison with other suburbs shows that in the mileage of new walks East Toronto is far in advance of any other municipality in York County.

The office of Town Clerk Clay and No. 2 Fire Hall have been greatly improved by the application of a coat of paint.

NORTH TORONTO.

By Our Own Reporter.

North Toronto, July 25.—Last night's meeting of the Town Council was a busy one. Never since North Toronto attained to the status of a town have so many by-laws been put through as last night, when fifteen received the official signature, a majority of them relating to the question of sidewalks.

The old waterworks property and the house in which the engineer has resided was sold to H. R. Anderson, the only tenderer, for $2,000.

Councillor Muston raised a vigorous objection to the payment of $68 for a tender to connect a storm pump with the water main. In the opinion of Councillor Muston, the town officials could perform this work at an outlay not exceeding $10, and council decided that the objection was well taken.

A new agreement respecting the cost of administration of justice between the town and the county was entered into. In the new arrangement the cost as borne by the town of North Toronto is reduced from 3 1-2 per cent. to 3 per cent.

D. B. Reid entered a vigorous appeal for the widening of Montgomery avenue and the construction of a granolithic sidewalk. Mr. H. Reid was impressed with the idea that the members of the Council were not in sympathy with the movement, and threw out sundry suggestions that the Orange Order, which is the owner of a lot on the thoroughfare, were interested in delaying the work. Considerable discussion took place, but the whole question was finally handed over to the Board of Works.

R. C. Morris was formally inducted into the position of Chief of Police at a salary of $800. The new officer was given plainly to understand that the local option measure was presumably in force in North Toronto, and that his best efforts, among his other duties, would be to aid in the enforcement of the law.

Chairman William Cordingly of the Board of Health registered a protest against the late Chief of Police for carrying about various summons against residents of the town for violating the health Act.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Powell gave an at-home on the rectory lawn last night to the members of St. Clement's Church. After luncheon an excellent program was given by Messrs. Boulden, Waddington, and Leach, and the Misses M. Waddington, M. Waddington, Boulden, Ruthven, and Mrs. Bowers. St. Clement's has enjoyed remarkable prosperity since the Rev. T. W. Powell, the present rector, assumed the pastorate.

Councillor J. M. Anderson is going on a trip to the Pacific Coast.

William Lynch of L'Epiphanie, P.Q., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. H. St. Germain of St. Germain Park.

Rev. C. J. Boulden, M.A., principal of St. Alban's School, and formerly assistant rector of St. James' Cathedral, brother of F. Boulden of Sherwood avenue, has been appointed president and vice-chancellor of King's University, Halifax.

Magistrate Ellis fined Adam Bell $5 and costs for damaging Mrs. Reid's property at York Mills.

TO RACE SEPTEMBER 8.

Harvard and Cambridge Race to Take Place Earlier.

Boston, Mass., July 25.—As a result of an exchange of cable messages, it has been decided that the race of the Harvard 'Varsity crew with the crew of Cambridge University will be rowed on the Thames in England on September 8, instead of September 15, as at first planned. This change was made because it was found that the tide conditions would be better on the earlier date. The Harvard shells will be shipped to-day on the steamer Canadian.

SOUTHERN LASSIES WILL VISIT TORONTO

Cheer Up, Boys, 100 Young Ladies from the Sunny South Will Be Here Sunday.

The attractions of Toronto as a summer resort have appealed to the young women of the Southern States, and at least four parties of fair tourists have arranged to spend a few days in Toronto. They will arrive on Saturday and Sunday.

Whether the visitors are school teachers, business women, or suffragists has not been ascertained. Mr. J. C. Palmer of the Palmer House has received instructions to reserve accommodation for them, and has arranged to do so. According to the letters received by the gallant proprietor of the Palmer, the tourists will come in four separate parties, from Kentucky, Georgia, Virginia, and Alabama, altogether about 100 strong. They will incidentally have a look at Niagara Falls on the way up.

All the fancy goods stores in the neighborhood of the Palmer House have laid in extra supplies of souvenirs and chewing gum, in anticipation of the arrival of contingent from the South.

Rag Men Observe Law.

A few weeks ago the Medical Health Officer prosecuted several rag pickers in the city for non-compliance with the by-law governing the storage of rags and the character of the building in which the rags must be stored. Since that time the Department has kept a strict inspection of these buildings, and Dr. Sheard stated this morning that there has been little reason to complain.

BILEANS CURE A TORONTO MAN

Mr. Thos. Plunkett, of 472 Manning avenue, Toronto, says:

"For three or four years I suffered from constipation and piles. I also had very severe headaches. All kinds of remedies were recommended to me, but in vain. Then I began to have twinges of rheumatism in my limbs, and became unable to sleep.

"I saw a report about Bileans, and tried a box. They did me so much good that I persevered with them, and I am glad to say they have now cured me. The headaches are cured, I have no more trouble from constipation, my rheumatism is better, too, and I can sleep at nights again. I have lived in Toronto 60 years, and will be glad to tell anyone my experience."

For constipation, piles, dizziness, loss of appetite, indigestion, "summer fag," debility, etc., Bileans are a certain cure. 50 cents a box. All druggists.

To Increase the Staff.

The C. P. R. intend to increase their staff at Toronto Junction. At first they contemplated to open an up-town office, but a former agreement with the Grand Trunk Railway prevented them from doing so.

Division Court Holidays.

To-morrow's Division Court is the last till September 4th. Judge Morson takes his holidays very shortly, and during August the Division Court office will close at 2 o'clock every afternoon.

No License for Him.

The Board of Control to-day again turned down the application of Ah Chong, a Celestial, for a license to establish a laundry at 1061 Bathurst street. The residents in that locality objected, and a counter-petition was presented.

Chinamen Behaving.

The reports gathered by the Medical Health Department regarding the condition of Chinese laundries indicate that the by-law is being well observed. There have been no prosecutions of late, and the general conditions are satisfactory.

Mr. Coo Appointed.

William C. Coo of London has been appointed official stenographer to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board. Mr. Coo has been official stenographer to the local courts at London and proprietor of the Stenographic Institute of that city.

Doesn't Want Name Used.

With a view to compelling the Karn Piano and Organ Company of Woodstock to refrain from using testimonials, bearing his name, Mr. Charles S. Warren, who was an employe of the company, has issued a writ at Osgoode Hall.

Runaway in Bay Street.

One of Gallagher and Company's horses attached to a delivery wagon became frightened at noon to-day, and dashed down Bay street at a terrific speed. It attempted to make a sharp turn at King street, but slipped and fell, breaking the shafts and otherwise damaging the rig.

Not in New Ferry Sheds.

The Toronto Ferry Co. will not occupy their new premises to-morrow as was expected. Mr. Solman said that though possible to move, the change would be inadvisable as the paint on the interior is hardly dry. It will probably be next week before they move.

May Appoint Mr. Gegg.

There is a rumor going the rounds in the City Hall that ex-Bailiff Edward Gegg will receive the appointment to the bailiwick of the Tenth Division Court, made vacant by the death of Mr. Peter Small on Tuesday. Mr. Gegg was bailiff of this court before Mr. Small.

Wants More Time.

The representative of the Westrumite Dustless Roads Company, now in the city experimenting on Shuter, Temperance, and Teraulay streets, has told Dr. Sheard that he has not had a fair chance to test the qualities of Westrumite on Toronto's streets, and Dr. Sheard has consented to allow more time.

The Sea Wall.

The Board of Works held a special meeting this afternoon to consider the advisability of expending $70,000 to build a section of the sea wall from a point 200 feet from the shore opposite the Old Fort property to a point opposite Spencer avenue, as the initial step towards the construction of the Lake Shore drive, boulevard, and bridle path.

Mr. Shaw Is Pleased.

Controller Shaw this morning expressed himself as well satisfied with the work done at the Municipal Power Convention in Galt yesterday. He stated that there was strong opinion in favor of Government control of the generation, transmission, and distribution of power, and something of a practical character would undoubtedly be done in the near future.

To Her Sisters.

The late Mary Thompson, who died on June 3rd, left an estate valued at $2,772, of which real estate, consisting of a one-third interest in Nos. 569 Church street and 4 Rose avenue, valued at $2,000 is the chief item. The estate passes to the sisters of deceased, Hannah J. and Harriet I. Thompson, by the Act filed this morning.

Had Property in Toronto.

The will of the late Ann Dinnis Davison, of Woonsocket, R.I., was filed for probate here. It disposes of an estate of $5,396.17, being property at No. 114 Richmond street west. The income from the estate goes to the husband during lifetime, and on his death to Ada L. Cox and Maud W. Grand, nieces, and Stephen J. Cox, nephew, of Cranford, N.Y., in equal shares.

Clear the Lots.

Dr. Sheard, the Medical Health Officer, is issuing notices to owners of vacant lots with reference to the cutting of weeds and stipulates that unless the weeds are cut within fourteen days following the serving of the notice offenders will be prosecuted. The weed-cutting campaign has started earlier this year, with a view to preventing the seeds blowing over the lawns of the city.

The Weed Nuisance.

Park Commissioner Chambers stated this morning that his staff of men at the Island were doing all they possibly could to clear the lagoons of the weeds that have been cut by the weedcutter. In some cases these men will have to wait until the wind blows the floating weeds to shore, unless the Board of Control is prepared to appropriate a much larger sum of money for the purpose of removing them.

Durham Old Boys.

The annual excursion of the Durham Old Boys to Niagara Falls yesterday proved an immense success, about 500 persons being present. Unfortunately the Grand Trunk special which should have reached the city at 8.45 was nearly an hour late, and caused considerable disappointment. Otherwise the day was ideal, and the party made the best of it, and visited a large number of the interesting points at the Falls, returning on the Chippewa, where a special train awaited them at the foot of Yong street to take them to their destination.

Dust Nuisance Reduced.

The energetic work now being done by the City Roadways Construction and Repairs Department is having a satisfactory effect upon the dust nuisance, and during the past two weeks the number of complaints have been greatly reduced. Dr. Sheard, the Medical Health Officer, states that cleaning streets has been much easier of late, and the dust can now be removed.

Farewell Gifts.

A very pleasant event took place at the Toronto Home for Incurables yesterday, when Dr. Frank Vanderlip was presented with a valuable opthalmascope from the patients, a medical book from the orderlies and house staff, and a gold locket from the officers and nurses. Dr. Vanderlip has been one of the most popular of the resident doctors, and his departure to take up the practice of his profession in Newfoundland is greatly regretted by all connected with the institution.

Want Fair Tickets Free.

The Kentuckian, a weekly newspaper published in Newport, Ky., is preparing to take a party of young ladies, numbering between ten and twenty, to be chosen by a popularity contest, to Niagara Falls and Toronto, leaving there August 25th, and the proprietor of the paper has written to Dr. Orr, Manager of the Industrial Exhibition for tickets to the exhibition for the party, for the two days spent in Toronto, payment to be made by including the Exposition in the wide publicity given the trip.

F. O. Commeford's Death

The death occurred yesterday at his parent's home, 225 Delaware avenue of Frederick Oliver Commeford, son of J. V. Commeford, sr., of Ossington avenue fire hall, and brother of Jas. W. Commeford, jr., honorary-treasurer of the Queen City Yacht Club. Deceased was 21 years of age and had been seriously ill for six months. He was an excellent singer and a member of a well-known amateur quartet. He was an employe of Roden Bros., enameled jewelry manufacturers. The remains will be interred at Mount Pleasant cemetery to-morrow afternoon.

Factory Owners Complain.

Secretary Stewart of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, has returned from Montreal, where the annual meeting of the Montreal branch was held yesterday. J. S. N. Dougall was appointed chairman and S. W. Ewing vice. The chief subject of discussion was the proposed Workmen's Compensation bill, which the Manufacturers' Association has been fighting for a couple of sessions. It is claimed that the bill, if it became law, would practically make employers liable for all accidents in their factories, neglect or not, and that their liability would extend to annual share-of-wage payment to the bereaved, besides immediate damages.

LAD MAY NOT LIVE THROUGH INJURIES

Toronto Boy Who Was Dragged by Runaway Horse and Kicked in the Head.

Fireman James Armstrong's little son, who was injured in a runaway accident on a farm near Jarvis on Sunday last, is still unconscious. The accident came about in a peculiar way. The little boy was leading the horse to drink, and had the halter wrapped around his hand. The horse was skittish, and began to run away, dragging the boy behind. He became mixed up in the horse's feet and got several severe kicks in the head and body before a farm hand came to his rescue. Little hope is expressed for his recovery, and the father went out to the scene of the accident to-day to be with the boy when the end comes.

ATHLETICS.

Jimmy Reynolds, Port Hope's fifty-five-year-old barber, who recently walked from Port Hope to Toronto in 21 hours, has taken another wager. He has bet $300 to $600 that he will walk from Port Hope to Toronto and return within 42 hours. The general opinion in Port Hope is that "Jimmy" will lose his money.

FORTY-NINE TONS OF COAL.

Some One Burned It—Who Shall Pay For It?

Mr. G. M. Lee, junior registrar, sitting in Chambers at Osgoode Hall this morning, was asked to give speedy judgment in the case of Jacques, Davy, and Company against Dr. G. B. Foster of this city for $208.65, the price of 49 tons of coal.

Nearly two years ago, when the big coal strike was on, and every consignment of the black diamonds was snapped eagerly, the dealers delivered the 49 tons to the premises No. 97 to 99 Adelaide street west. The building was then leased and occupied by D. W. Allan, but Dr. Foster was negotiating for the purchase of it. The plaintiffs say the doctor told them to leave the coal there, and that he practically guaranteed the payment for it. However, the negotiations for the purchase of the property fell through, the coal was burned by somebody, and the dealers were never paid for it. They are now suing the doctor for the amount.

The acting Master-in-Chambers enlarged the motion for a week.

A Rib Broken.

An accident occurred at the Dodge Manufacturing Company's works, Toronto Junction, this morning about ten o'clock, in which a foreigner had a rib broken. The injured man was employed in the moulding department, and was engaged at his work, when a casting fell on him. He wasn't badly injured, and proceeded to his home half an hour afterwards.

MAY KEEP BOYS AWAY FROM DON

By Putting a Boat on the Route to Carry Them to Fisherman's Island.

Ald. Church appeared before the Board of Control this morning to urge them to take some action to prevent further fatalities by drowning in the Don.

"For $200 a season you can get a boat to call at either Cherry street or Sherbourne or Polson's yards, and take the boys to Fisherman's Island. Do something of that sort and let us have no more drownings in the Don."

"The only drowning that took place there recently was outside the city limits," remarked the Mayor.

"Make a penalty for boys bathing in the Don," suggested Controller Hubbard.

Ald. Church was not in love with that idea.

"The only way is to take them away from the Don," said he.

"We'll have a report from Engineer Williams," said the Mayor. "He has charge of the free bathing."

Ald. Church, talking to The Star, suggested that it would be possible to lease the beach of the House of Providence property at Leuty avenue, if the city does not in the meanwhile buy that property for a park.

The beach is 1,600 feet wide, and has good bathing facilities. It would be quite convenient for the east end boys, as the beach is but a few minutes from the King street cars.

Mr. Robert Newman, who for several years has had charge of the free bathing resorts of the city, stated this morning that for the past four years he has recommended the closing of the Don free bathing resort. He states that this resort has been a constant source of annoyance to the city apart from the danger at the unprotected parts of the river. All the danger signals have been removed, and it was made entirely impossible to maintain the conveniences provided by the city because of the vandalism of unknown parties, who destroyed everything of advantage to the swimmers.

Mr. Newman pointed out, however, that there had been no drowning accidents at the point between Winchester street and the brick yards since the city had engaged a man to patrol that part of the river in a boat. He spoke highly of the services now being rendered by J. Robinson, the patrolman.

PUT MRS. CAREY ON THE CARPET

Detectives Question Her About Letters —Get Sample of Writing.

"A charge of murder in the Port Credit case will be placed against Mrs. Carey if we cannot secure another remand to-day," said Provincial Detective Greer this morning.

But the Crown secured a remand till August 1st, and consequently Mrs. Carey will remain in custody on the nominal charge of vagrancy for one week more.

Mrs. Carey had been informed of the intentions of the prosecution, and looked very much more worried than usual when she appeared in the dock.

"I would like a remand till next Wednesday," said Mr. Corley.

"Now, I object to that," said Mr. Robinette, "The woman has already been in jail on a nominal charge for a long time."

But Magistrate Kingsford thought that the Crown were entitled to another adjournment, and granted their request.

Mrs. Carey was further interrogated by Detectives Verney and Greer this morning, but threw all the obstacles in the way of their investigations that she could, finally saying:

"Well, you know, it is always sweeter to learn things yourself."

Letters are in the possession of the detectives which they say are written by Mrs. Carey, and which ask information regarding certain babies for adoption. This morning these letters were shown her, but she denied positively having written them. She was then asked to sign her name, and the writing looked very similar to that in the letters shown her.

The Star was told this morning that Mrs. Carey also went by the name of Mrs. C. Baker and had letters addressed to her in that name to Bracondale post-office. In one of the letters seized by the detectives, the prisoner writes: "Address my letters to Bracondale Post-office and address them to Mrs. C. Baker, as it is safer for you and also for me."

A letter was found in Mrs. Carey's purse when she was arrested which was an answer from some one to whom she had evidently written enquiring about a certain baby. The detectives went to this person and secured the letter, which Mrs. Carey had written. This letter was among those shown Mrs. Carey this morning, and she denied positively having written it. But when she signed her name the capital "C" in Carey looked very similar to the initial before the name Baker.

Mrs. McCartney, a woman who looks after babies and has a house in the North End, was at Police Headquarters this morning, but said that she had never seen Mrs. Carey before and couldn't identify her.

Detectives Greer and Verney are still following up clues in the case, but say that it is extremely difficult to get anyone to acknowledge that they have ever farmed out a child.

His Thumb Gashed.
