

NEWARK DID BEST WEEK'S WORK IN THE INTERNATIONAL

Toronto Won Five Out of Seven Games—Review of the Four Baseball Leagues—Suggested Improvements for the Next C.C.A. Regatta in Toronto.

FORM STUDENTS IN WRONG AGAIN AT WINDSOR

After another week's work in the International League Newark is still out in front by a good margin, and will be hard to beat for the pennant.

The features of the National League race for the last week were not many, the most important being Pittsburgh's continued good playing, that team winning five games and losing one, making twelve wins and one loss in the two weeks.

The second week of the second invasion of the western section of the American League by eastern teams, produced neither change nor startling effect on the race.

While the contention at the Western Division C.C.A. meet at the Toronto Canoe Club Saturday was fierce enough to satisfy the most rabid fan who saw it, the delay between races, caused by the fact that paddlers were frequently entered in races which followed each other, were tiresome.

Should Fill in the Delays Between Races

Gravenhurst Paddler a Sure Corner

In Dalton White (Gravenhurst Canoe Club) has a paddler of unusual promise. Only eighteen years old, he came down here and beat real classy boys when he won the intermediate title, and he undoubtedly would have won the junior title too but for his over eagerness to get a crack at the senior champion, Mackenzie.

Big Squad for C.C.A. Finals

Toronto will send over one hundred paddlers to the Canadian Canoe Association final regatta at St. John, Quebec, in August 2nd. The first three in each race of the Western division meet races, held here Saturday, are eligible, and the meet produced some classy material.

Form Students Bumped at Windsor

Fresh from a long let-up, and after a careful and secret preparation at Hamilton, H. G. Bedwells' Prince Albert at liberal odds threw a bomb in the ranks of the who set of "form students" when he annexed the $1,500 Pontchartrain stake, Windsor's feature event, on Saturday.

TEAM OF "BLOOMER GIRLS" REALLY MEN IN DISGUISE

Washington, July 21.—One policeman is in a hospital, two others are nursing business and awaiting new uniforms, and part of the United States baseball park is a wreck to-day as the result of a riot at a Sunday baseball game when 4,000 enthusiastic spectators tried to force their way into the park.

JOE KELLEY BACK ON BENCH.

Manager Joe Kelley of the Toronto Ball Club, will be on the bench to-day for the first time in some weeks. He has been scouting for players in the absence of a couple of years. Sonn threatens to purchase another string of horses, provided he can engage Penny to train them.

TORONTO CLUB WILL BE SUSPENDED BY D.I.A.

Also a Fine of $500 as Soon as the Officials' Reports are Handed In.

MUST PAY FINE TO PLAY IN FUTURE

Then League Will Decide Case—Mr. Fleming's Strong Stand on Roughhouse Play.

When Robert John Fleming, the big mogul of the Toronto Lacrosse Club, refused to let his champion Blue Strips play Tecumseh's Big Four League game Saturday at the Beach grounds, if the Indians played Buck Yeaman, he put the pro lacrosse out in the fire with a vengeance.

Will Suspend Club.

"Upon the official report of the default I will suspend the Toronto and fine them $500," said President Quinn to-day.

Beginning of the End.

The talk of the lacrosse world. To many it spells the beginning of the end for professional lacrosse in these parts. They cannot see any excuse for H. J. Fleming's action in view of the fact that the league had specially dealt with Yeaman's conduct.

No Roughhouse.

Mr. Fleming's attitude is that the slush was intentional and says that a $50 fine and two weeks' suspension is not adequate punishment for such a serious attack and insists that the league is not making any real effort to stamp out rowdy lacrosse unless they banish Yeaman for the season at least.

What Will be Done?

Awaiting definite official action, Toronto are marking time—if they are teased out the league is gone. What will the league do? It is up to them.

Young Boy Drowned.

Hamilton, July 21.—George Walker, of Mountain street, Dundas, 14 years of age, was drowned while bathing at the Dundas dam Saturday. He was seized with cramps, and a younger companion was unable to render effective aid.

Kennedy, and sailed by Commodore Acemilus Jarvis, opened the Put-in-Bay regatta by winning handily the celebrated Wingo long-distance trophy cup, with the sloop Crusader of the same club, sailed by George Lamont, second.

The race was from Rocky River, Ohio, to Put-in-Bay, a distance of 58 miles. A start was made at six o'clock with a light, variable breeze out of the north-east, and it was not long before the faster starters were strung out down the lake, with the Crusader leading in the light air.

T.C.C. CREW CAME FROM BEHIND, WON FIERCE WAR CANOE RACE

Lost Two Lengths at Start When Crowded by Kew Beach, But Came On and Beat Parkdale Crew Six Inches in a Terrific Finish—Won Half-Mile Race, Too.

GRAVENHURST UNCOVERS A YOUNG WONDER

By LOU E. MARSH. That this year's Toronto Canoe Club war canoe race has in its makeup the bulldog courage, stamina, and racing experience, which made last year's crew the Canadian Canoe Association champions, was amply proven Saturday at the annual regatta of the western division of the C. C. A., held over the Toronto Canoe Club course, for the Red Ring crew won both the half-mile and mile war canoe races, the tit-bits of any canoe racing program.

The half-mile, with the advantage of the inside position and the smoothest course of the lot, was won with comparative ease. A well-judged start, started 50 yards from home, sent them across the finishing line a length in front of the fate-crippled Parkdale Canoe Club's crew, which beat them in the Dominion Day race and its aftermath, but the mile was what tested to the last ounce the courage and stamina of the T. C. C. crew from stem to stern, and they made good, beating Parkdale a hand's breadth.

A Fierce Race.

The mile race made the Torontos show that old attribute of real sport—the contention—the "come-from-behind" stuff which shows real class. Front runners occasionally come home on the bit after having all the racing luck, but it is the real thoroughbred who comes from behind, after meeting the interference, and catches the leaders by sheer dogged courage in the critical race.

A Good Paddler.

White came down here looking for the scalp of senior champion A. M. Mackenzie, and in his eagerness to land that cost himself the junior title. In the junior race, which immediately preceded the senior race, White saved himself to the last 50 yards, and when he tried to come away with a sprint set into close quarters with another paddler, who fell overboard, leaving Percy Swalm, of Parkdale, to win with McDougall and Leavens, of the T.C.C., second and third.

A Near Foul.

Away over on the extreme outside the Kew Beach crew—they figured to have a royal chance to spill the dope in this race—recognizing the T. C. C. No. 1 crew as the crew to beat, sagged over toward their rivals, and there was a well-deserved break away. In vain Coswain Blackburn called on the rival crew to interlock. Before they could be separated the T. C. C. boat was headed for Centre Island, and Parkdale, I. A. A. and Talmay team were all two lengths ahead. To win from there was a prodigious task.

Hammer and Tong.

The reverse didn't seem to fluster the T. C. C. lads. Stroke Leavens, green though he is, called on his men for a sprint, and, lashed by the taunting shouts of Coswain Blackburn and his three other crew members, they cleared the gap and Parkdale, in the centre position, had nose to the van, with the light-weighted kid crew from the Island Aquatic Association attacking to them like glue.

A. M. MACKENZIE, Of the Toronto Canoe Club, winner of the senior singles championship at the Western Division regatta of the C. C. A. Saturday.

All Had a Look-in.

True, A. M. Mackenzie, of T.C.C., won the senior singles, and with Orville Elliott won the senior tandem for three years in succession—they are three C.C.A. senior tandem champions—and the club accounted for the intermediate and senior fours, but just the same outside clubs had more than a passing look-in against the greatest canoe club in the world.

Commentary. Hugh H. Ryan and Harry Howard of the Gravenhurst crew came down with a war canoe crew and a single paddler, and while the war canoe crew didn't show anything, the pair of last year's picked crew from the lakes did, still the "Lungers" furnished the sensation of the day when they uncovered the winner of the intermediate singles. He is Dalton White, an 18-year-old boy.
